

Dear Brian Lamb:

October 27, 1995

I was astounded this morning (about 9:30) to hear you say "mayorality." The word, as you must really know, is "mayoralty" -- four syllables, not five.

On another subject: You are spending too much of your air time on things like the Internet and other on-line phenomena. This is of interest only to a tiny, elite group. Perhaps some day more people will be equipped with modems, but at present such on-line types are very rare.

New York, NY 10010

Brian Lamb - C-gan
400 North Capitol Street
Suite 650
Washington, DC 20001

