

Washington Journal

1-24-99

To all at C. Spear - great job.

Mr. Lamb you are the best.

They changed your channels, hear.

Am now trying to have it ^{so everyone can receive it.} changed. We have TCI, and it is a poor performance. They just sold to AT and T - perhaps it will change for the better.

No-one is perfect Mr. Lamb - and the only thing I didn't like about you did, was ^{to include} feature the article by Sally Quinn - then have her on. Her arrogance was apparent and her opinion, including ^{coke, Rodolph} David Broder disturbed me greatly.

Orw

I hope she would know we didn't like what the President did, but we don't want him impeached or have him resign. Sorry, it upset their tight community, which I am sure is a bastion of the highest Morality.

2.

I love your bookstore, but got myself in a very embarrassing situation.

The one book you featured, was about a murder of a whore - plus what and how they lived. The cover is the poor woman half nude, set on fire. I talked the library into purchasing it. When I saw the cover and read some of it, I really had a red face. Am trying to figure
a way of getting it out of there,
but don't want to remind them who did this. Am a 71 year old grandmother promoting porno - is that bad?
I was lucky to see Charles Lewis and "The Buying of the Congress" featured on C. Span? Got the library to purchase it, I feel perhaps that was a good thing. I wrote to Charles Lewis and received a delightful reply.
Keep up the excellent, exceptional work you and C. Span do for us. We love you.

Sincerely

2.

I love you booknotes, but got myself
in a very embarrassing situation.

The one book you featured, was
about a murder of a whore - plus
what and how they lived. The cover
is the poor woman half nude, set
on fire. I talked the library into
purchasing it. When I saw the cover
and read some of it, I really had
a red face. Am trying to figure
a way of getting it out of there,
but don't want to remind them
who did this. Am a 71 year old grandmother promoting porno - Dear Lord!

I was lucky to see Charles Lewis
and "The Buying of the Congress" featured on Q-Span. Got the library to purchase it, I feel perhaps that
was a good thing. I wrote to Charles Lewis and re

Keep up the work you are
us. We love to

three Queens, Mi. 49093