Dear Sir:

Re the program today w/ Hitchens & Buchanan, don't worry about the balance thing. Look back to November. Clinton had a 60-40 ratio against him then. Then when he botches it, naturally the support will drop even more. Real balance today might be 80-20. If you're looking for 50-50, you won't have balance; you'd have imbalance.

And the program, if anti-Clinton, still leans left. (I mean Hitchens. He thinks Mondale is centrist.) Look at the guests - all those on the left - Clarence Page, Atlanta Constitution & journal people, Washington Post people, N.Y. Times people, New Yorker people, NPR people, Newsweek people, Time people, even today US News people. I studied w/ Page and I wound up w/ organizations. I suppose I came up with Page because by actual citation (SPR-10) his articles run 83% - 17% on race. He makes a career out of blackness.

As to electronic media, so Limbaugh is on the right. We haven't forgotten Donahue, Raphael, Rivera, Winfrey, and on and on in that vein. Still no real balance.

Minister,

P.S.:
I hope this finds you.
No one seems
