Dear Brian Lamb -

We had the opportunity to meet this past summer at the Hildene symposium on Presidential families in Manchester, Vermont, my home. (I also saw that you were recently in Albany, New York, at a public function I had hoped to attend but couldn't get to.)

I very much enjoy C-Span, the quality of information you have developed on it. I enjoy watching your one-on-one interviews with interesting "movers + shakers".

I want to call to your attention, one of my public relations clients, [REDACTED] Inc. and its President/CEO, Dr. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] is a "research/think tank" which has performed work for a variety of government agencies at all levels, going back to World War II. You would be intrigued about all of the behind-the-scenes work that Mitretek has done over the years for famous and unknown government projects.

Please look at [REDACTED] website.

We're talking about everything from specialized transportation projects, to energy projects, to law enforcement, defense, homeland security, and even issues like bio-terrorism.

Is there an opportunity for you to do a one-on-one session with this accomplished CEO?

Again, Dr. [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] have operated for many years with little fanfare, way below the radar screen, when compared to the significant role they have had in government.

I can send you more information about Mitretek and very current issues if you would like it.

Respectfully submitted,

[REDACTED]
