Brian Lamb; It's obvious from your broad smiles that you love having Eleanor Clift as a panel guest on your reporter's program.

She certainly is a lightening rod to many of your viewers who have it in for President Clinton. Personally, I love Eleanor. I think she personifies what white America could be less its bigotry and a sucker born every minute mentality. She is an experience reporter and a wise compassionate observer of American life and I look forward to buy her book once she writes it.

As an Addendum I think its a sad commentary about American psyche that so much attention has been given to the Amy's Butterfucos Bobbish's & Tanya's all representative of the lower scale of the white social hierarchy; they were subject to unrelenting bashing suggesting that they were victims of class bias .

A Michael Jackson or a Minister Farrakhan are legitimate quarries of the media because one is a world figure and the other because he challenges the racial myths of the country, meaningful issues worthy of attention.

You're doing a good job which I have stated to you before and I think that you are a good man. But I suspect that you as many other Americans of your educational and social status who were raised in the racist climate of America are not unscathed by its contaminants.

By the way the design of this card was made in Haiti.
