Dear Brian Lamb,

Thanks for taking my call about fluoride. Enclosed is some information you may be interested in.

Harry Everingham may be a good guest, and would balance the Rockefeller establishment boys, you keep having from the major media. Kathren Grahm is the daughter of the first "Federal" Reserve Chairman. She runs the Washington Post, and Newsweek, and has connections to the CFR.

mice of a particularly rare form of liver cancer. This cancer is so rare, he says, that the odds of its appearance in this study by chance are one in two million in male mice and one in 100,000 in female mice. Also found in the rats given fluoridated water were precancerous changes in oral squamous cells and an increase in squamous-cell and thyroid tumors.

The release of the N.T.P. study did create some concern. "Previous animal tests suggesting that water fluoridation might pose risks to humans have been widely discounted as technically flawed," Malcolm W. Browne wrote in The New York Times on March 13, 1990, "but the latest investigation carefully weeded out sources of experimental or statistical error, many scientists say, and cannot be discounted." In the same article Dr. Edward Groth III, a biologist who serves as technical director of Consumers Union, agrees: "The importance of this study . . . is that it is the first fluoride bioassay giving positive results in which the latest state-of-the-art procedures have been rigorously applied. It has to be considered seriously."

In February 1990 The Medical Tribune, an international medical weekly, quoted a government scientist as follows: "It is difficult to see how the E.P.A. can fail to regulate fluoride as a carcinogen in light of what the N.T.P. has found."

Government health officials were quick to downplay the results of the N.T.P. study and reassure a concerned public. The cancers in lab animals may not reflect the effects of fluoride on humans, they reasoned, since the level of fluoridation in the test animals' water was so high. The high incidence of cancer in fluoride-dosed rats "could be the result of chance alone," said Dr. David Hoel, acting director of the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences. He also cautioned that the data resulted from only one study. The American Dental Association stated that "the amount of sodium fluoride given the rodents in the study far exceeded the optimal level of fluoride present in drinking water, one part per million. . . . A person would have to consume about 380 eight-ounce glasses of water a day to obtain 45 parts per million of fluoride, and nearly 700 glasses daily for 79 parts per million."

If these officials truly believed that the high doses of fluoride given to the test animals weakened the study's relevance to human subjects, it would be a remarkable about-face: The Federal Register, the handbook of government practices, states that "the high exposure of experimental animals to toxic agents is a necessary and valid method of discovering possible carcinogenic hazards in man." To disavow the findings of the N.T.P. study would be to disavow those of all such studies. As Newsweek pointed out in February 1990, "such megadosing is standard toxicological practice. It's the only way to detect an effect without using an impossibly large number of test animals to stand in for humans exposed to the substance."

Nor was the N.T.P. study alone in revealing a relationship between fluoride and cancer. In February 1990 the Medical Tribune reported on a study that was conducted by a toothpaste manufacturer in the early 1980s, but was never made public. The manufacturer termed the results "clean," which is to say, free of significant malignant tumors. Yiamouyiannis, however, analyzing the available data from the study, found that exposure to as little as one part per million of fluoride significantly increased genetic damage, and that there was a tie between fluoride and precancerous changes in oral cells.

The fluoride juggernaut proceeded as it apparently had for the last 40 years—without any concern for the facts or for public health.

Occasionally, the justice system has been called on to render an opinion on fluoridation. Judge Ronald A. Nieman of Illinois ruled in 1982 that "a risk of serious health hazards" does exist. In a 1978 court case focusing on the Burk-Yiamouyiannis study, Judge John Flaherty, now of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, stated after 20 days of hearings that he was "compellingly convinced" of the adverse effects of fluoridation and that it can be linked to cancer, allergies, and to mutagenic and other dangerous effects.

Ten years later he affirmed his convictions about fluoride: "Those who belittled critics do fluoridation of the public a disservice, yet it seems, in the face of strong, uncontradicted prima facie evidence, that is the tactic most often employed."

Both judges' decisions were overturned on appeal on jurisdictional grounds. That is, the governing bodies retained the right to fluoridate or not fluoridate, regardless of the scientific evidence upon which the judges based their decisions.

In Fluoride: The Great Dilemma, Wald-

bott writes that the controversy over fluoridating water supplies has become "a political, not a scientific, health issue." This has been the case, in fact, from the very beginning of the Public Health Service's promotion of fluoride. The P.H.S. first endorsed fluoride in 1915, long before many of its health effects were known. While officially committed to and responsible for promoting fluoridation, the organization was also the principle source of funds for most fluoride research, resulting in a fundamental conflict of interest. Repeal of the fluoridation laws would constitute a considerable loss of face for the agency. Dental associations and physicians all unanimously supported fluoridation as well. With this powerful coalition behind fluoride, it is hardly surprising that relatively few studies have been undertaken revealing its effects on children and pregnant women, or on possible links between fluoridation and cancer, birth defects, and skeletal fluorosis.

To date, most of Western Europe has rejected fluoridation. The Swedish government, after seeking the opinion of the Nobel Medical Institute, which advised against it, and after 11 years of testing, banned fluoridation in 1971. The Netherlands banned it in 1976, after 23 years of tests. Denmark has also banned fluoridation, and France has never acknowledged any health benefits that can be derived from it. West Germany—now the united Germany—discontinued fluoridation in 1971 after 18 years of experiments.

An issue that has largely escaped notice in the fluoridation battle has been described by columnist James Kilpatrick as "the right of each person to control the medication he or she takes." The public has a strong opinion on the matter: 60 percent of the approximately 20,000 referenda on fluoridation since 1950 have turned down that right. "In light of the uncertainty, critics [of fluoridation] argue that administrative bodies are unjustified in imposing fluoridation on communities without obtaining public consent," reports a recent New York Times article. "The real issue here is not just the scientific debate. The question is whether any establishment has the right to decide that benefits outweigh risks and impose involuntary medication on an entire population. In the case of fluoridation, the dental establishment has made opposition to fluoridation seem intellectually disreputable. Some people regard that as tyranny."

Professor Warburg's researches on cell metabolism revealed that the cancer cell differs from the normal cell in that it can not oxidize its food, as does the latter. Instead, the cancer cell ferments its nutriment. In his search for a chemical that converts the metabolism of the normal cell to that of a cancer cell, and causes it to ferment nutriment instead of oxidizing, Prof. Warburg discovered that sodium fluoride was effective in bringing about this change in cell metabolism. This was the first intimation, about half a century ago, that fluorides can cause cancer.

The effect of water fluoridation in causing cancer in humans was confirmed in a report made, in 1954, to the House Interstate & Foreign Commerce Committee by Dr. John W. Knutson, Chief Dental Officer of the U. S. Public Health Service. (80, p. 375, Chart 8) He presented evidence in the form of his Chart 8, on DEATHS FROM CANCER, U. S., GRAND RAPIDS & MUSKEGON (1943-50) that after seven years of fluoridation beginning in 1945, the incidence of cancer in Grand Rapids increased more than 25% over its incidence in the control, unfluoridated Muskegon; and more than 30% higher than the average incidence of cancer in the U.S.A. Newburgh, New York, another town in which fluoridation was tested, has had an equally shocking increase in its cancer death rate, according to the information obtained from its health officer.

Water fluoridation is an ideal device for controlling the so-called "population explosion" that so gravely concerns Nelson Rockefeller and his cohorts, underhandedly and without raising suspicion or alarm among the "peasants" and their religious leaders. It reduces the number of births, thus cutting down the population increment. At the same time, it increases the incidence of cancer and cuts down the population by hastened deaths. In the latter, it is slower in its action than wars engineered for the purpose. But judging from the intensity of effort put by the conspirators into imposing it on the nation's communities, they regard it as steady and reliable in trimming man's numbers to a figure satisfactory to themselves.

Water fluoridation serves the conspirators in another manner that suits their purpose. By inhibiting the action of the enzymes that are especially essential for the metabolism and function of the nervous system and the mind, it poisons and "tranquillizes". This action has been especially valued by the Rockefeller-Soviet Axis. It makes their victims more suggestible, docile and submissive. Anna Pauker, the Communist leader of Roumania, is reported to have boasted: "Give me enough fluorides, and I can keep any people in submission". Fluorides have been extensively used in Soviet slave-labor and prisoner-of-war camps. During World War II, it was reported by Major George Racey Jordan, (81) that enormous amounts of fluorides were shipped to Russia, by plane, through the Great Falls, Montana air base, for that purpose. In view of the current increase of the rank of patriots, whom Nelson Rockefeller denounces as "fanatics of the radical right . . . more dangerous than the left", one can understand the desire of the conspirators to resort to "tranquillizing" their American "peasants" to supplement their brainwashing efforts.

The Rockefellers do not suffer financially from fluoridation. Among the largest producers of fluorides are their American Agricultural Products Co. and Hooker Chemical Co. The former produces enormous quantities of fluorides in Florida, as a waste in the preparation of phosphate fertilizers from a fluorophosphate rock. Most of the fluorides must be removed to avoid killing the crops fertilized with the phosphate. Fluoride is a waste product for which use in insecticides provided a market until the Department of Agriculture acted in the 1930's, to protect farm animals from its poisonous effects. Disposal of the waste by dumping it into the streams and the ocean was instituted. It caused death of fish and other marine life, and gave rise to a "red plague". The government ordered the dumping into water stopped. The wastes were then buried in pits in the ground. This caused death of vegetation over an area of many square miles due to fluoride poisoning. The Department of Agriculture intervened to stop burying of the fluorides. The solution of building concrete blockhouses for storing of the fluorides was costly.

The pollution of drinking water with fluorides for the sterilizing and "tranquillizing" of the peasants proved to be ideal for the purposes of the conspirators, and enabled them to "make money" thereby. American Agricultural Chemical Co., however, is not the only avenue through which profits from fluorides flow into Rockefeller coffers. Fluorides are a source of profit also to the Hooker Chemical Co. The former Miss Blanchette Hooker is Mrs. John D. Rockefeller the Third.

The "population explosion" and birth control agitation provides the conspirators an opportunity for "making money" on an enormous scale from the sale of the steroid products of their Drug Trust as contraceptive pills. The pills have been proved to cause death by venous thrombosis; and ample evidence proves that the steroids cause profoundly injurious disturbance of the endocrine glands, tenants, Rockefeller and his Red cohorts have virtually destroyed for a large proportion of landlords all rights of private ownership of property that are assured by the Constitution. These laws insure the development of new slums by destructive tenants, that the conspirators can later steal. The packed and prostituted courts support this subversion of justice and the Constitution; and support the conspirators in their land and property grabbing thievery.

The communist publication, the DAILY WORKER, in its issue of March 13, 1956, urged the prompt adoption of water fluoridation by New York in its boldly headlined lead article. (126, p. 1) Gov. Rockefeller, shortly after his inauguration, led a delegation, in his official capacity, that demanded of his puppet, Mayor Robert F. Wagner Jr., that he order pollution of New York's water with fluorides. (127, p. 1; 128, p. 1)

Some understanding of Rockefeller's intent "to make Democracy live", as do the Soviets, can be had from an examination of the water fluoridation conspiracy that he intensively pushes. One of his manias is his notion that there are too many people in the world for him to "manage". He and his pseudo-scientific minions regard the rising birthrate that prevails among some peoples, as a "population explosion". The Rock Mob (the name applied to the Rockefeller brothers by the N. Y. Daily News as a tribute to their gangsterism) has been sold on the idea that there must be restriction of the number of children brought into the world by people other than themselves and the persons on Relief who bear illegitimate children promiscuously. (The NAACP and the Urban League demand this as a "civil right" that they value highly: and the Rockefellers can not deny those "abused" and over-privileged groups anything. The subsidy by Relief and Welfare agencies of selective breeding by this element is rapidly making a reality of the Communist scoffing that the U.S.A., like Africa, will soon become a black nation.)

Population control has become one of the prime purposes and, indirectly, the most profitable project of the bogus "philanthropies" controlled by the conspirators. To further this purpose they have subsidized a wide array of organizations manned by like-minded or prostituted "scientists". Their propagandists have flooded the nation's press with stories headlined: "BABIES MORE DANGEROUS THAN ATOM BOMBS!" (N. Y. World-Telegram & Sun)

The chief opposition to the birth control conspiracy are the churches and religious sects that accept the Biblical verse, "THOU SHALT BE FRUITFUL AND MULTIPLY", as a divine dictate rather than a priestly assurance of fertility at a time in human development when offspring were rated as commercial assets. The most formidable opponent in the Western world is the conspirators' pet detestation, the Catholic Church.

Water fluoridation is especially valued by the conspirators as a device for outwitting the Church. For relatively few persons other than scientists engaged in the work are aware that it had been definitely established, shortly prior to the launching of the fluoridation conspiracy, that fluorides inhibit ovulation as well as development of the ovum and fetus, and is a birth control measure.

The intensive study of the poisonous action of fluorides was first launched by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and others in the early 1920's. It was discovered that fluorides used in insecticides contaminate feeds of farm animals and prevent their reproduction. Pregnant sows fed the fluoride containing feed lost their litters; and hens failed to lay eggs. This was a serious matter; for pigs and chicks have commercial value. Phillips, Halpin & Hart, a research team, reported in 1935, in an article in the Journal of Nutrition (p. 93) that fluorine behaved like lead in poisoning the egg by concentrating in and combining with fatty substances in the yolk of the egg, and inhibited laying. They reported that the fluorine in the yolk increased from three parts per million to more than fourteen parts per million. (137) Numerous studies proved that fluorides are largely retained in the body and build up to poisonous concentrations even when minute amounts are ingested. In addition to its birth control action on the female, fluorides poison and sterilize the male. And it has long been used for that purpose on mean, ugly bulls, in some regions. Alarmed by these findings, the Department of Agriculture tried to secure the passage of legislation barring the use of fluorides as insecticides, to protect farm animals from poisoning and protect the farmer from losses.

Rockefeller is acutely aware of the poisonous and birth-control action of fluorides. For the Rock Mob, through their Foundation, subsidized research on it, at that time. They distributed a publication by a Scandinavian researcher, named Hans Borei, that was published abroad, to the medical and research libraries in the U.S.A. (129) Hans Borei offered an explanation for the findings of Nobel prize winner, Prof. Otto Warburg, on the effect of fluorides in changing the chemistry of a normal cell to that characteristic of a cancer cell.

In the tests they examined the effects of fluoridated water on 344 rats and mice. When they discovered a tentative link between fluoride and very rare types of cancer, the results were locked up for secrecy. They said the results may be changed when they take into account such factors as the rats' age, what they ate, mathematical mistakes, etc.

Four of the 80 rats receiving the highest dose of fluoride developed Osteosarcoma, a rare bone cancer. One of the rats in the next group developed cancer. In addition, four rats developed mouth cancer.

No animal drinking fluoride-free water developed cancer. . .

Of added importance is the recent data on the shrinking benefits of Fluoridation.

A 1987 survey of almost 40,000 schoolchildren found that tooth decay had declined sharply everywhere. Also, similar research in Australia reported in the British Journal Nature in '86 that 24 studies from eight countries found that cavity-rates had declined equally in fluoridated and non-fluoridated areas, suggesting fluoridated water isn't necessary.

Those who favor Fluoridation "to promote the health of children of all races and classes", say that it is morally wrong not to provide the benefits of fluoride. But those who oppose Fluoridation say it is morally wrong to force all other Americans of all ages to drink fluoridated water against their will and better judgment.

The government test office had said that they would release their full report in March, but now they have postponed the report until April because of high concern all over the country about the results.

U.S. Tests of Fluoridation Show It Causes Cancer and It Doesn't Prevent Tooth Decay

Do they have you drinking fluoridated water? They have over half of us Americans on it now. Government officials have fluoride added to the community water supply "because fluoridated drinking water helps to prevent tooth decay among young children." But this means everyone in the community must drink that water, unless they buy bottled water,

In World War II the Nazis discovered that repeated doses of fluoride ingested by people will, in time, reduce their power to resist and make them submissive to those who govern them.

In his book, The Truth About Water Fluoridation, Charles Eliot Perkins, a top research chemist sent to Germany to take charge of the I.G. Farben Chemical Industries after World War II, wrote the following reply to questions he received from The Lee Foundation of Milwaukee:

"In the rear occiput of the left lobe of the brain, there is a small area of brain tissue that is responsible for the individual's power to resist domination. Repeated doses of fluorine will in time gradually reduce the individual's power to resist by slowly poisoning and narcotizing this area of brain tissue and make him submissive to those who wish to govern him.

"I was told the entire scheme by a German chemist who was an official of the I.G. Farben Chemical Industries and prominent in the Nazi movement of the time."

Test results in U.S. health laboratories recently showed that fluoridation causes cancer and does not prevent tooth decay. For many years, fluoride in large quantities was used as a rat poison. Who is to know that some boob at the water works won't turn up the valve on the fluoride that goes into our drinking water? We often wonder about that.

But now there's no doubt about it — our fear has become official. Listen to Walter Miller, a safe water advocate, in Cupertino, Calif.

"Bone cancer has been linked to fluoride in a 10-year study by the National Toxicology Program of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. This sensational news was disclosed in an exclusive report in Medical Tribune, Dec. 28, 1989, but ignored by the mass media.

"Also, Proctor and Gamble, the maker of Crest (a fluoride toothpaste), presented studies to the U.S. Public Health Service, showing that fluoride tested positive as a cancer-causing agent at the lowest concentrations used.

This information has been withheld from the American people by the U.S. Public Health Service since 1985. It was necessary to invoke The Freedom of Information Act to obtain this information from our government. WHY?"

Now meet Dr. John Yiamouyiannis of Delaware, Ohio, who has led the attack against Fluoridation for many years. As head of the Safe Water Foundation, Dr. Yiamouyiannis led the fight that kept Fluoride out of the water supply of Los Angeles. He did it by getting Fluoridation on the ballot in Los Angeles so the people could vote it down. This could happen in your town. It was he who used The Freedom of Information Act to bring out the truth about the test results on fluoride after the agency had held up the report for too long a time.

Dr. Yiamouyiannis spoke at the National Health Federation convention in California on Jan. 19, 1990. He said, "This may well be the death knell of community Water Fluoridation. The American Water Works calls this the environmental story of the century!"

Science Magazine carries this important story in their Jan. 19, 1990 issue. Among the establishment, Science Magazine is recognized as the world's leading and largest journal of general science. On pages 276 and 277 you'll find the fluoride debate one more time. What are they talking about?

"They're talking about the work," says Dr. Yiamouyiannis, "that I did with Dr. Burke in the '70s and the '80s that led to the studies done by the Public Health Service that finally proved that in animals, as we've already proved in humans, FLUORIDE CAUSES CANCER!"

"I got this report from the Environmental Protection Agency, where I have friends.

"The President of the Union of Professional Workers and Scientists at the home office of the Environmental Protection Agency has come out against Fluoridation. So has the Union. Furthermore, the Science articles I reviewed earlier last year showed that fluoride does not reduce tooth decay."

Ironically, the area of the country that has the lowest tooth decay rate has no fluoride in it.

And since then the national dental research has not only tried to cover up, but they have redoubled their efforts to fluoride even more areas. We are looking at sick, sick people in our government today. I mean, they are really sick!

We are paying something like $200 million for the National Institute of Dental Research to continue its fraud upon us — that's your tax dollars! It is a matter of fact!

On the cancer results — the National Dental Research has already come out and said they will not change their position, despite the fact that the anti-study comes out showing fluoride causes cancer.

With a budget of something like $200 million, you can imagine what they can buy off!

This is how serious it is: There is no other poison that is put into our water supply either purposely or accidentally that causes more damage to human health than Fluoridation of public water supplies.

So, from the results of the study that was instigated by studies I did about 13 years ago with Dr. Burke, we now have the results over 100,000 cancer deaths later: FLUORIDE CAUSES CANCER.

And do you want to know what's going to happen if we just let it sit here? The Public Health Service will come in and try to cover up, and continue to fluoridate.

Now let us turn to Chemical Engineering News — I used to work for the American Chemical Society as a Bio-Chemical Editor. When I came out against Fluoridation of water supplies, I was forced out because it was threatened with a cutoff of federal funding. But in 1988 they came out with a 17-page article that blasted Fluoridation.

Science Magazine and The American Chemical Society are two of the largest scientific groups in the country and in 1989 they came out with the results of our tooth decay study. I took about $20,000 out of my own pocket because I wanted to have proof positive. What we did, we got, through The Freedom of Information Act, the records of 40,000 school-children — from 84 areas, 27 of which were partially fluoridated, 28 of which were never fluoridated, and 29 of which were fluoridated from 5-to-17-year-olds. In the 5-year-olds we found no difference in tooth decay rate: 6-year-olds, no difference, 7-year-olds, no difference, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17-year olds, no difference!

If you have any doubt as to how important this is, just remember — fluoride contamination of the water is responsible for the chronic poisoning of over 100 million Americans; for a substantial number of the 40 million Americans suffering from arthritis; for over eight million American children who are so badly poisoned that their teeth are discolored with those white, chalky areas that you see (8,000,000 children); for about two million Americans who suffer allergic reactions from fluoride; for about 35 thousand Americans who die from Fluoridation each year; and for about 10,000 Americans who die from Fluoridation-induced cancer each year.

If you've ever suffered the pain or discomfort of a disease and remember that relief of having your body returned to good health, you can understand the relief you'll be helping to bring to millions of others BY STOPPING FLUORIDATION NOW!

The American people want the freedom to choose in matters of health. They do not want Fluoridation forced upon them through their drinking water. Fluoridation is forced medication. It is un-American.

[End of quotes by Dr. Yiamouyiannis.]

In 1965, the protests reached the reservoir's edge.

One pint, two ounces, of sodium fluoride causes death. In Annapolis, Maryland, the ejecting device in the Water Works went haywire and put too much fluoride into the water. It could happen anywhere.

The fight against Fluoridation has been going on for 45 years: "Man against Governmental Authorities". In his book, Murder By Injection, Eustace Mullins brings back memories:

"We may recall the heady days of the 1950s when public health officials were routinely sent out from Washington to appear at meetings where communities were anxiously debating the pros and cons of Water Fluoridation.

Without exception, these public servants not only reassured the anxious citizens, they positively demanded that the communities fluoridate their drinking water.

"Although they unequivocally endorsed the Fluoridation of water supplies, not one of these public health officials had ever conducted any studies of fluoridated water, or made any experiments as to its possible benefits or dangers.

"Yet at meeting after meeting thruout the U.S., they rose to solemnly guarantee that there were no dangers, no side effects, only positive benefits on children under the age of 12. Fluoridation, even according to its most enthusiastic supporters, confers no benefits on anyone older than 12.

"No sensible reason has ever been advanced as to why all water supplies should be fluoridated in order to benefit a minority of the population.

"Did these public servants know what they were doing? Of course not. They were following a tradition of the bureaucracy, which takes its orders from the Medical Monopoly. How did they get these orders? That, too, is an interesting story."

Newsweek (Feb. 5, 1990) ran a headline over the masthead on their front cover: "A FLUORIDE RISK. Evidence of a Link to Cancer".

The article states, "Government researchers' new evidence casts doubt on the benefits of Fluoridation and suggests it is not without risk. The most incendiary results come from the National Toxicology Program (NTP), which in 1977 was ordered by Congress to determine whether fluoride causes cancer.

"This week NTP plans to release data showing that lab rats given fluoridated water had a high rate of a rare bone cancer called Osteosarcoma. According to a memo by the Environmental Protection Agency, 'Very preliminary data from recent health studies . . . indicates that fluoride may be a carcinogen.'"

The Hidden Government of The United States Under Rockefeller's CFR and TC

"There has apparently been a Fascist (National Socialist) takeover of the United States Government."—Antony Sutton.

"It is absolutely vital that we take control of the United States Government away from the Trilateral Commission and the Council on Foreign Relations."

—Pat Robertson, U.S. News, World Report, 9/24/79

"These elitist groups have one objective in common—they want to bring about the surrender of sovereignty and the national independence of the United States."—Admiral Chester Ward (USN-Ret.)

LENIN'S PREDICTION

"AMERICA WILL SPEND ITSELF INTO NATIONAL RUIN..."

—Knoxville News-Sentinel
The Leaning Tower of Washington

International Bankers and heads of Multinational Corporations are now bankrupting our government with their influence through the Council on Foreign Relations (CFR) and the Trilateral Commission (TC). They become bolder, ever bolder, each year! Now the corporation heads are trading with Communist countries and Third World nations on cheap interest loans that these nations get through U.S. Government guarantees, backed by the money and credit of U.S. taxpayers.

Bella Dodd, former member of the National Committee of the Communist Party, U.S.A., said, "I think the Communist conspiracy is merely a branch of a much bigger conspiracy! . . . I would certainly like to find out who is really running things."

Senator Goldwater said, "The IPR (Institute of Pacific Relations) was behind the decision to cut off aid to Chiang Kai-shek (in China) unless he embraced the Communists, and the CFR was the parent organization of the IPR." [With No Apologies, p. 279]

"When a new President comes on board, there is a great turnover in personnel but no change in policy. Example: During the Nixon years, Henry Kissinger, CFR member and Nelson Rockefeller's protege, was in charge of foreign policy. When Jimmy Carter was elected, Kissinger was replaced by Zbigniew Brzezinski, CFR member and David Rockefeller's protege." [Ibid]

Good Times - Bad Times Recession - Depression

CFR Indicates past or present membership in the Council on Foreign Relations.
TC Indicates past or present membership in the Trilateral Commission.

"The Council on Foreign Relations is the American Branch of a society which originated in England...and...believes national boundaries should be obliterated and one-world rule established..."

"The Trilateral Commission is international...and...is intended to be the vehicle for multinational consolidation of the commercial and banking interests by seizing control of the political government of the United States." WITH NO APOLOGIES, Senator Barry Goldwater

Influence or Control of Money, Mail, Media, Military, IRS/Tax Courts, Commerce, Energy, Unions, Domestic and Foreign Policy, etc. Provides an Apparent Opportunity for Massive Fraud, Robbery, and Control of the American People!
