

Sep. 1, '92

As though in a dream, 4449 and the display cars of the American Freedom Train roll thru the fog shrouded early morning light. Southbound out of Oakland, the 4449 heads for Newark, Calif. and then the run to San Francisco, the next stop on her historic cross country journey.

Kodachrome Transparency by; Dean Lewis, 9 Dec. 1975

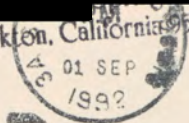

Dear Mr. Lamb,

First, thank you so much for (C-SPAN).
You all are wonderful.

"I just read your interview with Broadcasting in April of '89. (No, I'm not that far behind in my reading. I used Infotrac at the library to see if you had ever told anyone anywhere anything you yourself thought) I was glad to read you think all legitimate views deserve an airing. How about cranky, bisexual, anti-feminist misanthropes? I'd love to see Florence King on "Booknotes." We could all use some comic relief, particularly from such an original thinker as Miss King. Your faithful viewer

AFT 3-4-27
121314

Stockton, California 95209

Copyright © 1976 By Rail Card, P.O. Box 801, Manhattan, Kansas 66502

RAILCARD

Mr Brian Lamb
C-SPAN

400 N. Capitol St. NW
Suite 650

Washington DC

20001

INDOT 247

2445

COTTON BELT

