Dear Mr. Lamb:

On November 1, 1993 I ordered a copy of Christopher Hitchens's book
FOR THE SAKE OF ARGUMENT.

Mr. Hitchens had been a guest on your Booknotes program and I decided that I wanted his book. At no time in that program was it indicated that the book had not yet been published. You talked as though you had read it so I assumed that it was published.

Unfortunately for me, the book has not been published and the publisher, Routledge, Chapman & Hall, Inc. have my $30.45 and I will not have a book until July of 1994.

I wrote to the distributor for the publisher asking for a refund and received none, nor did I receive a reply.

Please, in the future, state clearly several times during the interview that a book has not been published if, indeed, it has not been published.

Very truly yours
