You people just dont GET it do you? Our daily newspaper - a republican rag - wasted eight columns trying to figure out why the Presidents popularity has soared. Well, heres a clue - he has spent his time in office TRYING to do what the American people WANT him to do and in most cases being shut down by the majority in congress. The budget is almost balanced - the minimum wage has been increased, but not by the $2.00 an hr. which was requested by the President -he wants to save Social Security and Medicare - he tried to get some form of medical coverage for poor PEOPLE , NOT JUST WOMEN and children. Of course the right wingers have tried to take credit for it all, but how stupid do they think we are ?? Where do they think we were for those 22 years they were in control of the White House [we dont count Jimmie Carter who didnt have a prayer against the power brokers] and the country went steadily down the toilet as they sold out to the highest bidders, the corporations, the insurance industry, the banking industry, Japan. Since Nixons illustrious career of screwing the taxpayer weve had nothing but republican hanky panky. Reagan was the worst of the lot. [This hero considered catsup an adequate veggie for poor children.] NOW they want to name a D.C. AIRPORT after this puppet who destroyed the air traffic controllers and unions in general, assuring those same banks and corps etc. that the profits they gorged upon could never be shared by the workers who produce their obscene wealth. Another slap in the face of the average American. He saw to it that the greedy were well fed, including himself - a $2 million, 20 minute speaking engagement in Japan shortly after retirement. They say THEY cant afford Social Security, THEY cant afford Medicare. THEY??? Have they really forgotten where this money comes from or are they just hoping WE have??? What are they doing with it besides packing their own pockets? OF, BY, and FOR the PEOPLE, remember?

Perhaps the clue they most desire is the most obvious. We agree with the First Lady that the right wingers have a conspiracy going to destroy the President. That monkey-faced, white-haired idiot who appears on "The Capital Gang" on CNN [I dont know his name and dont want to] was so outraged that the "plan" wasnt working that he said, "This proves that the American people want somebody to take care of them!" Can you imagine the guts of this guy? And the stupidity? It is OUR money, OUR government, not HIS agenda, not NEWTS agenda [hes the one who wanted privately run orphanages for poor children - was he planning to operate them at the taxpayers expense?] Do they know what MAJORITY means? The majority has spoken.
