Dear C-Span,

I was wondering when you're going to have your left-winger of the year on. I'm not talking about a centerist or a moderate, the kind of person the mainstream media usually pass-off as a left-winger* I'm talking about a real left-winger, you know, like Al Cockburn or Edward Herman, the kind of person you see on C-span about once a year, sandwiched in between presentations by the Heritage Foundation and those gray, middle-of-the-road symposiums (snore) that won't make anybody angry.

Anyway I'm really serious. The last time you let Al Cockburn on I had to get up at 5:30 in the morning to catch him (you had him on w/ Malcolm Forbes Jr. I suppose to counter anything "dangerous" Al might say).

So please let me know. I know that C-span and the rest of the American media are committed to Democracy and the free expression of ideas (even the ones that ETNA and PHILIPS PETROLEUM and MEXXAM don't like) I just want to be there for that annual ^(S.C.) 30 or so minutes when it really happens.

Thanks (really, I'm serious),

*like Micheal Kinsley or Al Hunt
